Contextual Foundations of Cold

War Propaganda

The Cold War was not merely a military standoff but also a battle for hearts and minds, manifesting through various propaganda campaigns designed to bolster national ideologies and demonize the enemy. Two dominant narratives emerged: - The American narrative emphasizing democracy, freedom, and capitalism. - The Soviet narrative championing socialism, equality, and proletarian internationalism. Both superpowers recognized the power of information and misdirection as strategic assets, leading to an unprecedented level of propaganda activity, especially in the 1950s.
